Infectious Diseases and Clinical Microbiology

June 25-26, 2020 | Toronto, Canada

Theme:

Innovative Approach and Novel Technologies in Prevention and Control of Infectious Diseases

Dear All,

Scientific federation welcomes you to attend the Global Congress on Infectious Diseases and Clinical Microbiology which is going to be held in Toronto, Canada during June 25-26, 2020. We cordially invite all the participants who are interested in sharing their knowledge and research in the area of Infectious-Diseases-2020.

Infectious-Diseases-2020 expects more than 300 participants around the globe with fascinating plenary sessions, keynote sessions, Oral Presentations and Poster Presentations. The attending delegates include 100 International Members of related International Journals. This is an excellent proposal for the delegates from Universities and Institutes to interact with the world class Scientists.

○ About Venue

Toronto is Canada's largest city and a world leader in such areas as business, economical, automation, dissipation and civilization. Its large populace of settlers from all over the map has also made Toronto one of the best multicultural cities in the planet.

Toronto, the most multicultural varied city on the planet: over 140 terminologies are spoken. It's estimated that over half of Toronto's tenants were born outside Canada, and despite its complex makeup, Torontonians generally get along. When the climate is fine, Toronto is a blast: a dynamic, big-time city abuzz with enterprise. Some of the world's finest cafeterias are found here, alongside happening bars and clubs and wide-ranging feasts.

The melting of ice from the past glacial age altered the Toronto region's landscape profoundly. Approximately 11,000 years ago a body of water much larger (about 130 feet [40 metres] higher) than the present-day Lake Ontario was in existence there—a glacial lake referred to as Lake Iroquois. With the opening up of the St. Lawrence River, the lake waters fallback, dropping in excess of 300 feet below the present level.
